Relatives Helplessly watch William Meyer, 21, Sink Out Of Sight—Body is Recovered Monday After Hours of Work.

After grappling in the waters of the Little Miami River for hours, the body of William Herman Meyer, 21, of 731 Carlyle Avenue, Dayton, who was drowned near "Upper Highbanks" on the Hawkins farm, west of Xenia, Sunday afternoon, was recovered at 9:15 o'clock Monday morning.

Glenn Johnson, who was wading the stream with grappling hooks, assisted by John Scammahorn and Ivan Jacobs recovered the body within fifty feet of where the youth sank out of sight while swimming at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

BRANDED MINISTER IS SUFFERING FROM EFFECTS OF DRUGS

Battle Creek, Mich., July 14.—The Rev. Oren C. Van Loon was taken from Nicholas Hospital today and placed in an automobile containing his wife Laura, and driven out of Battle Creek, ostensibly for his home in Berkeley. The mystery which surrounds his disappearance, eleven days absence and subsequent discovery on the streets here branded with "KKK", and his mind dazed, was still unsolved, and he had been planned to hold an examination today to determine the nature of the drugs with which the pastor was doped.

But when Dr. A. F. Kingsley informed Mrs. Van Loon that her husband was physically fit to travel, she insisted on leaving at once.

"He will get more rest at home," she explained.

The pastor was smiling as attendants removed him from the hospital in a wheel chair.

"I am very happy to be leaving," he said.

Asked whether he could remember anything of the eleven days when he was missing he shook his head.

"It's exactly as though he had been under an anesthetic for that length of time," Dr. Kingsley said. "He can no more remember what transpired in that period than a patient can know what took place on the operating table."

ARM CONGRESS TO GET BEHIND M'NARY RELIEF MEASURE

St. Paul, Minn., July 14.—The National Agricultural Relief Congress here adjourned after forming a permanent organization to press the McNary-Haugen bill and to further promote the interests of the American farmer. Efforts to broaden the scope of the organization at present were branded on the floor as "premature." The convention voted to table a motion presented by James Manahan of St. Paul, representing the Equity Cooperative exchange, which called for specific action demanding reduction of freight rates. The conference created the American council of agriculture to do that which shall be necessary and advisable to secure enactment by congress of legislation embodying the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill, and thus secure for American agriculture equality with industry and labor.

AMERICA MUST GIVE UP GOLD TO SAVE WORLD

London, July 14.—"America must give up her gold."

This admonition, bannered in the Daily Express, greeted the American delegates when they arose today to resume sessions of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The newspaper in a lengthy article addressed to the delegates, declared "the flood of gold pouring into America, was wrecking her prosperity."

"Shadows of disaster are ahead for America," the article continues. "The cause is her policy of isolation—the remedy is the rehabilitation of Europe."

The Prince of Wales, in addressing the Ad men this morning, expressed the hope that the convention would result in many lasting friendships which would increase international accord.

The Prince was roundly cheered when he was presented by Viscount Burnham as "the greatest friend of America in Britain."

"Your presence here is the record of good results that must follow the concerted advance towards efficiency in the science and art of advertising," the Prince said.

"The aim of good advertising is better distribution and lower prices. If you succeed in that aim you will solve many economic problems which confront the world today. I hope the convention will lead to many lasting friendships which will permanently increase international accord."

Ambassador Kellogg, who followed the prince, referred to the allied conference which will meet in London Wednesday to devise a plan for carrying out the Dawes report.

"Another convention will meet in London the day after tomorrow," Ambassador Kellogg said. It will solve the greatest economic problem in the world.

J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the colonies was another speaker. He urged "better understanding" between people as a means of solving world problems.

CRIME BUREAU HEAD URGES EXPANSION OF THE DEPARTMENT

Columbus, July 14.—Superintendent William N. Smith of the state bureau of criminal identification reveals in his first annual report that of a total of 2,518 persons identified by the bureau of inquiries from within the state as having previous criminal records, more than 80 per cent entered pleas of guilty. Many, of course, says the report, pleaded to minor offenses, but the saving to the state in costs of jury trials was substantial.

Another feature of the report was that the total of rewards offered and authorized to be paid for the apprehension of fugitives from justice, which was procured through the identification by the bureau of 241 fugitives during the year, far exceeded the amount provided for the annual maintenance of the bureau.

Recommendation is made that prevention of automobile stealing and apprehension of the thieves could be expedited if the present laws were amended to make every police chief and sheriff report daily to the bureau every motor-driven vehicle stolen, with details. The report states further that "the success of the first year of operation justifies the earnest recommendation that the bureau be provided with an appropriation sufficient to extend its capacity."

Bible Students to Meet.

Columbus, July 14.—More than 15,000 members of the International Bible Students' association from practically every nation are expected to attend the biennial eight-day convention, which will open in Columbus Sunday, July 20. Plans announced by A. H. McMillan, in charge of arrangements, provide for daily meetings at the state fair grounds coliseum, meetings in the evening at Memorial hall, a series of Monday meetings at Keith's theater and a huge closing convocation at the Ohio State university stadium on the last day of the convention.

CHANCES THAT CONGRESS MAY ELECT INCREASE

La Follette Optimistic Regarding His Possible Nomination

Washington, July 14.—Chances of the presidential election of 1924 being thrown into congress for decision have been materially increased as a result of the Cleveland and New York conventions and the grim earnestness with which Senator LaFollette has gone about the organization of his independent movement in the opinion of political leaders here. Both Republican and Democratic leaders view the prospect with uneasiness, for if neither Coolidge nor Davis is able to command a majority of the electoral college in November, they envision a situation of chaos unprecedented in American history.

It would be confusing enough ordinarily, they declare, to have a presidential election thrown into congress, with its consequent disturbing effect on business but at this particular time and with this particular congress it would be confusion worse confounded.

If LaFollette makes good the predictions of his followers in carrying only Wisconsin, Minnesota and the two Dakotas, it will give him 35 votes in the electoral college. An even fairly close election between Davis and Coolidge might turn the trick and prevent either from obtaining the required 266, leaving LaFollette the balance of power.

In this case the 12th amendment to the constitution provides the house shall proceed to elect a president between the three highest candidates, voting not as 435 individual members, but as state units, making 48 votes in all.

Here again would be confusion. Neither Republicans, Democrats or Independents actually control the house. The Republicans control 23 states, equivalent to 23 votes—California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wyoming and Wisconsin.

The Democrats control twenty states, equivalent to twenty votes—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Five states are tied, there being an equal number of Democrats and Republicans in the state's delegations, Maryland, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire and New Jersey.

If party lines held, the house could not elect a president—for the constitution specifies that the winner must have a majority, in this case 25 votes.

Unless the house would be able to elect by March 4, the date of inauguration, then the whole matter would be thrown into the senate, which under the same provision would proceed to elect one of the two vice-presidential candidates to the White House.

In the senate the voting would not be by states, but by individuals.

The present senate is composed of 51 Republicans, 53 Democrats and two farmer labor friends of LaFollette. While there is a seeming Republican majority in the senate, actually it can scarcely be said to exist because it includes such senators as LaFollette himself, Brookhart of Iowa, Norcross of South Dakota, Frazier of North Dakota, Howell of Nebraska, Norris of Nebraska and others whose legislative leanings are toward the Wisconsin senator rather than toward party regularity.

Who might emerge out of this weird maze of entanglements as the winner of the 1924 election is pure speculation. Authorities on election themselves say they do not know. This state of affairs, they contend, the constitution itself is vague and ambiguous. It makes no provision whatsoever for how the president should be chosen should the senate fall down on the job and it is even vague as to whether a vice president elected by the senate in such manner is merely the president pro tem or whether he is entitled to a regular four year term.

The supreme court might have to take a hand in it and interpret the legislation. Party leaders on both sides are sufficiently fearful of such a conclusion of the 1924 campaign that they have set constitutional authorities to studying the situation.

Only once in American history has a presidential election been thrown into the house. In 1801, the house elected Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr, after a bitter fight that lasted 36 ballots.

Adams was elected over Jackson in similar circumstances.

AGED MAN HANGS SELF IN DAYTON

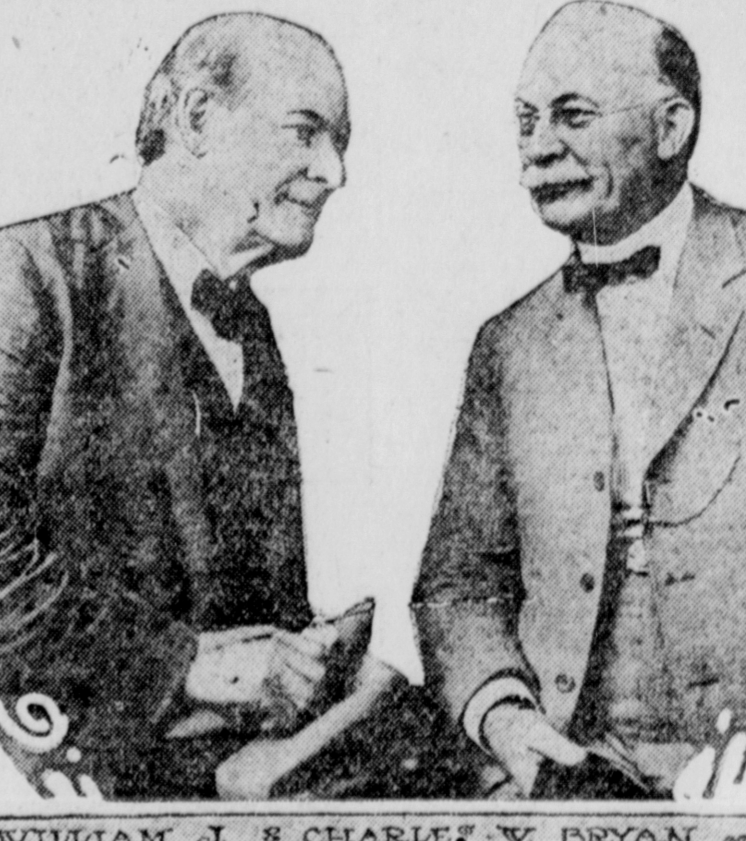

Dayton, July 14.—Robert Shields, 70, living at the home of Roy Cole, Smithville Road, committed suicide yesterday by cutting his throat and hanging.

Shields ended his life by strangulation, according to Coroner E. E. Kimmel, who is conducting the preliminary investigation of the case. He said a two inch cut had been made in Shields' throat, but that not enough blood was lost to incur death.

Shields, although formerly a resident of Portsmouth, O., had for the last year, been residing at the home of his niece, Mrs. Cole. According to Mrs. Cole, Shields had been in ill health for some time.

The Cole family left home early yesterday morning, and Shields, when asked to accompany them, declined, saying he would rather stay home and rest. When the family returned, the tragedy was discovered.

FOUR KILLED IN KANSAS AS TORNADO SPREADS RUIN

Augusta, Kansas, July 14.—The business district into a heap of ruins, bodies of three additional victims of the tornado which struck this town last night, twisting a third of the total dead to four. Of the score of injured, several today were reported dying.

City officials say they fear other bodies will be found as the search of the ruins progresses.

Augusta, Kansas, July 14.—One dead and more than a score injured was the known toll today of a tornado which struck this city last night demolishing a third of the business section of the city and unroofing scores of homes in the residential section. A search of the ruins for possible additional victims was started at daybreak. The damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

Seventy-five national guardsmen from Wichita arrived here this morning to go guard duty. All roads leading to the city are closed to travel.

WOMAN HELD FOR KILLING HUSBAND SORRY HE IS DEAD

Toledo, July 14.—Mrs. Isabelle Rooney, 48, was held at Police station here today, charged with killing Charles Rooney, 55, her husband, at his home on the Michigan-Ohio state line. She admits, police say, beating Rooney to death with a hammer during a drinking orgy at their home Sunday, in which she, Charles Miller and Robert Thompson participated.

"I'm sorry now that Rooney is dead," the woman is quoted by police as saying. "I suppose they'll kill me. I was drunk when I killed him. I admit that. I'd never have had the nerve to do it otherwise."

"Rooney deserved to die for the way he treated me the sixteen years we lived together. He beat me, cursed me, and ran around with other women. But I stood it all these years because I did not have the nerve to kill him or leave him before."

RIGHT OF CONGRESS TO PUT CITIZEN ON STAND IS UPHELD

Washington, July 14.—An investigating committee of congress has the right to compel a private citizen to appear before it and testify concerning matters relative to the investigation. It was held in effect today by Justice Hoehling of the district supreme court in overruling the demurrer filed by Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire lessee of Teapot Dome oil field.

Sinclair was recently indicted for contempt of the United States senate for refusing to testify before the senate public lands committee. His attorneys filed a demurrer, attacking the indictment on the ground that the senate was without authority to compel Sinclair to testify.

Justice Hoehling's ruling today, in effect, sustains the right of the senate committee to interrogate Sinclair.

PLAN DRIVE AIMED AT TUBERCULOSIS

Columbus, July 14.—An intensive drive against tuberculosis is planned by Ohio health agencies. There has been a steady decline in the tuberculosis death rate for five years until 1923, which showed a slight increase. There were 5,250 deaths in 1923 as against 5,125 in 1922. "That we may continue the progress we have made against tuberculosis in Ohio, we must strengthen the forces all along the line," said Dr. R. G. Patterson, executive secretary of the Ohio Public Health association.

RENEW EFFORTS TO STOP SPREAD OF GREAT NATIONAL FOREST FIRE

San Francisco, July 14.—Two pack trains of fire fighters after an all night journey into the mountains, started battling in a new sector today to stem the advance of the great Santa Barbara national forest fire in southern California, which threatens to cut the main automobile road from northern to southern California, known as the "ridge route."

The flames spread in this direction after they had apparently been checked by the hundreds of men fighting the blaze in the vicinity of Fish Canyon.

In northern California, although several fires were burning with two beyond control, the situation generally was considered more favorable. In Shasta national forest a small resort known as New Springs, was destroyed and two ranch homes burned.

In the Tahoe district the forest hill fire continued its grim advance on a ten mile front, despite all efforts of fire fighters. Only a favorable wind is expected to bring this blaze under control.

In the Sequia national forest, 400 men continued to hold their own against the great fire that has been burning in the Bull Run district. The situation there is such that only by constant watchfulness are the flames kept from spreading.

NOMINEE PLANS FULL CAMPAIGN WITH LEADERS

Davis Cheered By Promised Support of W. G. McAdoo

New York, July 14.—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, is planning his campaign in a thorough manner.

He received a number of party leaders at his Long Island estate, conferred about selection of a commander-in-chief for his forces, but made no choice, and answered a few of the thousands of telegrams of congratulations that have poured in upon him.

Mr. Davis sent a radiogram in response to William G. McAdoo's statement that he would actively support the Democratic national ticket. McAdoo is bound for Europe on the steamer Homeric. Davis said: "Let me thank you for the more than generous statement which you gave out on sailing. I am greatly cheered by the assurance that I shall have the benefit of your aid and counsel in the coming campaign. That it will result in the advancement of Democratic reforms and Democratic ideals I confidently believe. Mrs. Davis joins me in wishing Mrs. McAdoo and yourself a pleasant voyage and a safe return."

Mr. Davis was shown the statement by Eugene V. Debs in which denied published assertions that Mr. Davis, as a lawyer, had ever defended the Socialist leader. The dispatches had said that the litigation was connected with a coal miners' strike in West Virginia. Davis said his trade union clients in this case were William B. Wilson, who at that time was secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, and who later was President Wilson's secretary of labor, and others. He said he did not remember the other names and that if Mr. Debs stated that he was not among them, that doubtless was correct.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, who was chairman of the national convention, was among Davis' guests. The organization of the party machinery for the campaign was discussed.

The Democratic nominee attended service yesterday at St. John's Episcopal church in Locust Valley, where he customarily worships, although he is a communicant of no denomination.

McAdoo in his statement said: "The hope of genuine reforms and progress is more likely to be realized at this time through the Democratic party than through its opponents. I shall, therefore, give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign on my return in September."

Mr. Davis announced he would make an extensive speaking tour of the west and northwest.

BUILDING IN RURAL SECTIONS BOOMING

Columbus, July 14.—The report of T. P. Kearns, chief of the division of workshops and factories for the month of June, shows that building activities in rural communities where there are no regular building inspectors are on the increase. During the month 142 sets of plans were presented the department for approval. Included in this list were 17 new school buildings, three hospitals, four hotels, 15 churches and seven theaters. The department approved the plans for 83 buildings during the month, no rejections were made, and but few changes were ordered in other plans which will again be submitted. Under the law plans for all building in which public gatherings of any kind are held must first be approved by the state building inspector.

All sections of the United States and Canada were represented. At this time there is only one such school in the world, at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

MASKED ROBBER STEALS JEWELS

He is making the trans-Pacific flight via the Aleutian Islands.

WORLD RECORDS ARE SMASHED BY U. S. ATHLETES IN GAMES

Paris, July 14.—Athletes from the United States ran their final point total to 255 in the Olympic games. Finland finished second with 166, with other nations far in the rear. America also gained the coveted margin in first places, with 12, to 10 for Finland.

Several records went by the board. The American relay teams showed astonishing speed in capturing both the 400 and the 1,600-meter team events in world's record time, while "Bud" Houser, California collegian, broke the Olympic record in winning the discus throw, adding his name to those of Osborne, America, and Rittola, Finland, as the only double victors to share a portion of Nurmi's glory.

One Olympic triumph went to the new Finnish hero, Alben Stenroos, who raced to the classic marathon championship, a victory which capped the climax of Finland's clean sweep of the distance races and gave the little north country the greatest athletic laurels it has ever known. Stenroos sped over the 26 miles of country road in one of the most impressive victories in the history of the Olympic games. He crossed the finish line in 2 hours, 42 minutes and 35 seconds, nearly six minutes in front of his nearest rival, Bertini of Italy, with Clarence de Mar, the American veteran, finishing a close third. The highest honor of all in the final analysis must be bestowed upon the Finn, Paavo Nurmi, who completed a phenomenal record when, leading his team to victory in the 3,000-meter race, he won his fourth triumph of the games. Nurmi was the mainspring of the fight Finland put up to outscore the United States. The little northern country gave America one of the closest battles it has ever had, virtually with a two-man team.

LORAIN SCHOOLS TO BE RESTORED SAYS EDUCATION CHIEF

Columbus, July 14.—According to the Red Cross tabulation, just issued, 71 persons lost their lives in the tornado which swept Lorain two weeks ago.

The report shows in addition 37 persons still missing and unaccounted for, 43 injured in a Lorain hospital and 185 others receiving daily medical attention at Red Cross stations.

Frederick A. Miller, chairman of the state storm relief commission, announced that Huron county probably will be the first county over the top in the Lorain relief drive. John H. Cox, chairman of the Huron county Red Cross, wired the commission that $2,500 has been raised and that Bellevue is raising an additional $600. The county's quota is $2,900.

Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of education, advised the commission that Lorain schools will open in September as usual, and it will not be necessary to use any of the popular subscription fund for rehabilitation of the schools. The state department can provide relief from the educational equalization fund, Riegel said. This fund was swelled to $2,000,000 July 1, when all state departments received their annual allotment of funds. Riegel said $125,000 will enable the schools to resume operations and the relief commission approve his plan to begin immediate distribution of the money appropriated for the use of Lorain.

L. E. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, and C. A. Dyer, representing the Ohio State grange, reported to the commission that the grange and farm bureau are conducting a survey of the rural districts in the stricken area. Preliminary reports indicate the need of immediate relief for farmers in the disaster area, Dyer said. "The immediate need of farmers in this area is for carpenters and laborers," Palmer and Dyer said. Many farm buildings were destroyed and fields are so strewn with wreckage it is impossible for the farmers to work them. Some of the crops are ready for harvest.

Governor Donahey appointed a number of local business and professional men on a flying squadron to work out of Columbus and try to stimulate communities slow in putting over their quotas.

Elyria business men, in charge of the campaign in Lorain county to raise $50,000 for the city of Lorain, filed a protest with the governor's relief commission in which they said they thought $600,000 asked of citizens of Ohio for relief work at Lorain, Sandusky and other northern Ohio districts was much too small.

Chairman Miller expects the campaign to raise $600,000 will be ended this week. Many towns and villages already have raised their quotas.

YOUTH ARRESTED

AMERICAN FLYERS ARRIVE IN FRANCE; GREETED BY FRENCH

Paris, July 14.—Flying a perfect V formation the three American round the world planes arrived over Le Bourget field at 4:45 p.m. today. They were escorted by a squadron of French planes which met them at noon at Strasbourg.

The Americans left Vienna at 5:45 this morning and reached Strasbourg at 12:15. After an hour's wait at Strasbourg, the 250 mile flight to Paris was started.

The flyers did not make a landing at the field but went on towards Paris, where they circled about the Arch of Triumph as a token of homage to France's unknown soldier.

This courtesy completed, Lieutenant Smith headed the procession of planes back to Le Bourget field where a perfect landing was made.

The first plane landed at 5:07 p.m. 11 hours and 22 minutes after hopping off from Vienna. The landings were completed at 5:09.

The flying time for the 700 mile trip was ten hours and 22 minutes, a stop of an hour having been made at Strasbourg.

Paris, July 14.—The American round the world flyers enroute to Paris from Vienna passed over Strasbourg, Alsace-Lorraine, according to wireless dispatches received here. Strasbourg is 28 miles from the French frontier.

The American planes appeared over Strasbourg about noon and after they had been greeted by Minato.

French planes, landed on the Strasbourg flying field at 12:15. They planned to take the air for Paris again within half an hour.

A squadron of French planes met the Americans over Strasbourg and escorted them half way to Paris. Then the 34th French Airplane regiment flyers met the Americans to to conduct them over the remaining distance to the Bourget airdrome.

Extensive preparations have been made to welcome the American flyers to Paris. The secretary of aviation is personally directing the plans for the reception at the Bourget field.

The Americans hopped off from Strasbourg at 1:15 this afternoon, after an hour on the ground. They were accompanied by a squadron of French planes and expect to reach Le Bourget field about 4:30 this afternoon. The distance to Le Bourget field from Strasbourg is 250 miles.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU HELD BONDS IN THIS COMPANY

JAY MOTORS CO.
BANKRUPT
PLANT
to be sold at auction
SATURDAY

If a man owns bonds of a company which goes into receivership, it is usually wise to join the bondholders' protective committee.

If a bondholders' protective committee representing 90 per cent of the bonds outstanding buys in the property, it may turn over its bonds for 90 per cent of the payment. The other ten per cent must be paid in cash which goes to the bondholders outside of the committee.

It is probable that the property was sold for 1-3 to 1-2 of the face value of the bonds, since it was a forced sale. Consequently the bondholder outside the committee would receive from 1-3 to 1-2 of the face value of his bond, and he would be through.

The bondholder within the committee would turn over his bond at from 1-3 to 1-2 its face value, but he would own the property, and by successful operation, might eventually be able to receive his full investment and more too.

Consequently the man who stayed out of such a committee, hoping to save a relatively small assessment, usually gets the worst of it.

GREATER INTEREST IN AVIATION NEEDED ACCORDING TO REAR ADMIRAL R. F. FULLOM AUTHORITY ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Editor's Note:—The need of greater interest in aviation in the United States is stressed in an article written today for International News Service by Rear Admiral R. F. Fullom, U. S. N. retired, a noted American authority on international naval affairs. He points out that foreign nations are awakening to the need of air lines for commercial purposes which can be utilized in war time for war purposes.)

By REAR ADMIRAL R. F. FULLOM
U. S. N. Retired
Eminent American Naval Authority
(Copyright 1924 by the International News Service)

Washington, July 14.—It is well that the progressive, patriotic and business men of the United States are beginning to realize the vital importance of air navigation.

It is not too much to say that the whole world is today awakened as from a profound sleep by the rising and dazzling light of airpower.

Under the auspices of the National Aeronautic association, the writer of this article, during the past two years has visited 45 cities in every section of the United States, addressing chambers of commerce, business men's clubs, educational institutions and other gatherings of interested men and women with the object of emphasizing the commercial advantages of air transportation, air mail, etc., not only as beneficial in our daily life.

Mr. R. A. Blessing of Jeffersonville underwent a tonsillectomy operation at the offices of Drs. Madden and Shields, Monday morning.

Mr. T. J. Kennedy of the People's Building and Savings Company, will attend the national meeting of the Building and Loan Association, in Cleveland next week, starting Monday. Mr. Kennedy will be accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy.

The Misses Doris Whittington and Elizabeth Mullen left Sunday for the reservoir where they will spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sutton at Waterbury Resort.

now doing on their homeward flight around the globe. It is the strictly practical aspect of the matter that must be kept in view. The transcontinental air mail service is now assured. The lighted zone from Cleveland to Rock Springs, Wyoming, illuminated by lighthouses and beacons totalling 5,500,000 candle-power brings its coasts within 24 hours of each other. No sooner is this service started than we find that the cities in every state are clamoring to be linked to this cross country line. No city will long accept any other mail service. Interflying everywhere to carry mail, light weight merchandise and passengers must soon develop. Our business men will demand it.

Americans will not be content to be left behind the rest of the world. They note that all the capitals of Europe are now connected by commercial air lines. England is projecting both airplane and seaplane lines to India and Australia. Holland is thinking of an airship line to Java. Spain is dreaming of a similar line to Argentina.

Sweden is establishing a regular six hour service with London and is projecting lines to Norway, Copenhagen and the Baltic republics. In fact, she aims to connect lines that will link Stockholm with Persia! All Europe will soon be traversed by the railroads of the air!

America, where the airplane was born, has started later, but we may predict that it will not long remain in aeronautical darkness. The central and southern republics are beginning to clamor for air communication with the United States. Recent flights to South and Central America have aroused business interests everywhere.

Bogota, Colombia, was only reached by a tedious two weeks trip from the Caribbean coast, until an air line was established. It is necessary to the business prosperity of the American republics that air lines be forthcoming. It is said that the islands of Cuba provide many air bases between New York, New Orleans, Galveston and the republics to the southward.

The great "ocean of the air" will soon claim its proper share of the traffic of transportation.

The "merchant marine of the air," and "the railroads of the air" will never completely displace the other means of travel and commercial intercourse. The heavy traffic will remain as at present.

"We should not exaggerate Air navigation will take the place of "special delivery" for mail and merchandise.

It will carry passengers who are in a hurry. It will recognize the cry of the business man that "time is money!"

"It will fill a place that is demanded in peace and war by the march of civilization in all nations."

LITTLE BO-REEP-AMMONIA
The "Fleecy White" protects both hands and fabrics.

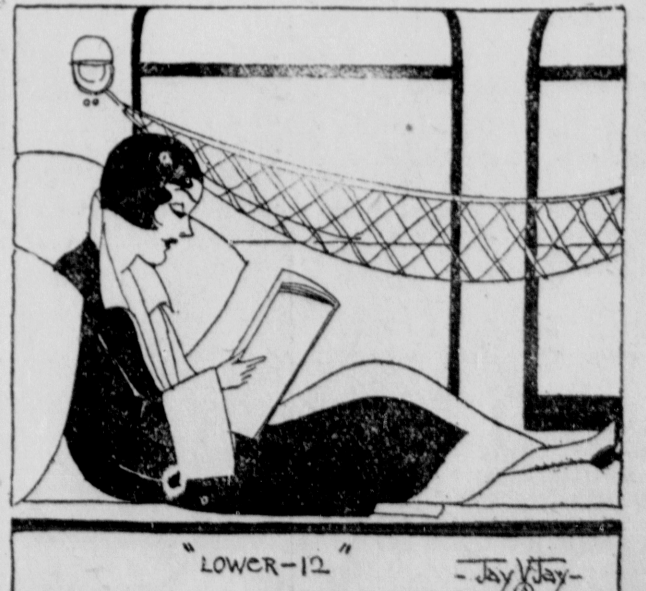

"Goodbye, goodbye," wave Dad, Polly and the Goofer to Mitzi on the observation platform as the train departs. Since it is the observation platform, and Mitzi is on it, let's observe her. The string wrap she wears is of black rep trimmed with plaid taffeta.

Mitzi is alone except for the other diners in the dining car. She is rather enjoying being alone. It allows one to look around—and select possible companions. She is quite conscious that her gown (which matches her coat with its taffeta trimmings) is not lost on the other diners.

Possibly it is her new rose and grey dressing gown that makes Mitzi walk so sedately down the aisle. Notice the foot protruding from the curtains. There is something familiar about it. We have the feeling that we have seen it before. It belongs to some one we knew. But whom?

Mitzi looks pitifully lonely in her berth. Nothing to do but read! Little does she know that her solitude is to be lightened. Companionship is at hand. Something besides the landscape will be interesting this trip. Just you wait till the morning and see!

DAVIS HAS NOTHING THAT COOLIDGE DOES NOT OFFER

Before Davis could be nominated his party had shattered itself. Bigotry and intolerance had done their work. Bryanism had colored the party policies. Bryan had flaunted the Davis fees from "the House of Morgan" in the faces of the delegates and had raised the familiar "Wall Street" cry.

John W. Davis must fight at the head of a divided party that has placed him on a platform of watered down demagoguery. Written at the dictation of Bryanism and McAdooism, it might have suited W. J. Bryan or William Gibbs McAdoo, but never John W. Davis. Everything Davis has said or written or lived, every act of his public career is a repudiation of the snake-doctorism that streaks and stripes many of the New York platform's planks.

The platform is destructive, while its nominee is a man of constructive ideas. He is a believer in private property, but his platform wanders into the dim trails of Government ownership. Never before was a nominee less suited by his party creed than Davis.

It is good to see a man of the calibre of Davis named rather than another of the kind the Democrats have nominated at various times in the last fifty years. Nevertheless, his candidacy, will have its troubles. Davis, the conservative, has nothing that Coolidge, the tested conservative, cannot offer the East. In the West he will be regarded as another Easterner from the land that knows not corn nor wheat and who speaks the East's political language. In the Bryan country the long howl of "Wall Street!" will be raised to damn him.

Strong, capable and deserving of high honors, John W. Davis was fated to come into his own in an evil time for the Democracy. He deserves a better chance than the political gods seem minded to give him.—Public Ledger.

BRAZILIAN UPRISING

It is not surprising that the Brazilian Government should confidently assure the world that nothing will come out of the uprising that has been reported in Sao Paulo. In that State, the richest and most powerful of the Brazilian hegemony, revolution has been endemic since the earliest years. Its riches are a perennial lure for aspiring political adventurers; and as the State controls its own army, the possibilities of secession always seem favorable. The fact that no uprising has ever succeeded, though at least once it amounted to civil war, gives the central Government confidence; but not too much confidence, for strong measures were taken to suppress the rebellion. The Government knows that the wealthy coffee State never has yet torn itself from the union, but it is not taking any chances. The secession of Sao Paulo would be a political and financial blow to Brazil that is contemplated with awe in Rio Janeiro, especially in the neighborhood of the Treasury Department.

THE "BIG KNOT" TROUBLE

Ramsay MacDonald went to Paris to save the allied reparations conference called to meet in London on July 16, a postponement of which might seriously prejudice the settlement contemplated in the Dawes report. To save the conference he had to save Premier Herriot from defeat at the hands of his parliamentary opposition. To save Herriot he had to avert a clash of fundamental French and British interests over the proposal to take from the Reparations Commission the power to decide whether and when Germany is in default on her obligations. After the conversations had ended both Herriot and MacDonald gave the impression that the storm, for the nonce, at least, had been calmed. The invitations to the conference, which had given offense in the French parliament are to be redrafted, or, perhaps, amended. The new documents will show how the Anglo-French class was avoided.

A COLD JOB

Noel Smith, a Philadelphian of long experience with the Pennsylvania Railroad, is to take charge of the completion and operation of the Alaska Railway. The task calls for the trained abilities of an engineer of the highest standing, and the appointment has been made on pre-eminent fitness and is without partisan bias. Man pitted against Nature in Alaska has a battle royal on his hands the seasons through; and in the 467 miles between Seward and Fairbanks, whereon $56,000,000 has already been spent, Mr. Smith will find responsibility that will test his mettle and can do a work of immeasurable significance for the evolution of our vast northern Territory.

THE LARGE FAMILY

Brothers and sisters and cousins and aunts, uncles and grandfolds, too, Children of this one and children of that, all of the blood of you; This is the family—yours and mine—and bigger it yearly grows; Oh, the pleasures come fast when the family's large and so do the cares and woes!

When the family's small you may run the years with seldom a touch of grief. Two or three lambs you may keep in the fold away from the wolf or thief.

But with many to love and with many to guard there are some that will go astray, And over and over your tears shall fall when the Shepherd calls one away.

They bring you their joys with their smiling eyes, they lavish their love on you.

When the family's large you have much they miss who cherish but one or two.

But your faith must wear to the circle rim for many a blow shall fall, For as often come joys to the larger throng, so often shall sorrow call.

There is always a care when the family's large, there is ever a pressing need.

For the strength you have and the faith you hold, and often your heart will bleed,

But this is the price you must pay for all the love that has come to you—

You must braver be, for you'll suffer more than the smaller families do.

ADVICE FROM MY MOTHER

It is now some 25 years since my Mother went away, but her sweet and abiding love never dims. It is as though a few moments ago she said to me: "Keep up a stout heart."

I wish that I might with the stroke of a hand wipe every failure, mistake and thoughtless blunder from the path of my life, so that it might stand out that much more worthy of her spotless love.

She knew—me. Mothers do. That is their job.

I have just reached to the little table beside my typewriter stand for a bunch of letters, papers, clippings and notes which I keep handy to help me and cheer me when I get much below my par.

I find one of my Mother's letters. Here is the last paragraph—I want it to go out as a star by night for others as it has so often shone in the heavens of hope for me. "Keep up a stout heart now, my dearie, and remember that there is one who always thinks of and loves her boy every moment of his life."

After all these years, I can say that it was the way she kept a stout heart through the most unusual suffering and privation that has given the one she so much loved the courage to face things all over again—after the devastation of every storm.

"Keep up a stout heart!"—I can neither think of, nor have I ever heard of, a better medicine for a discouraged human being or a floundering world.

THURSDAY WILL BE LORAIN RELIEF DAY IN XENIA, COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES MONDAY

Thursday will be Lorain Relief Day in Xenia. This was decided at a meeting of a committee in charge of the relief fund in this city held Monday at the "Home Cummins" dining room on West Second Street.

The committee composed of representatives of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, the American Legion and local Red Cross Chapter, decided on a whirlwind campaign to be staged in a canvass of the business houses from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m. Thursday July 17. The campaign will immediately follow a luncheon at the K. of P. Hall, when members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs together with representatives of the American Legion will hold a joint meeting launching the drive.

Members of the committee hope to raise Xenia's total of $1,000 for the relief of people in tornado swept Lorain, in the brief campaign which will be conducted Thursday. No house to house canvass will be attempted it was announced Monday, only the business places of the city being solicited.

Those desiring to contribute to the fund can do so by sending their checks to any local bank, where they will be credited to the relief work. The National Red Cross, in active charge of the relief work going ahead in Lorain, has announced that all the funds contributed to this move will be applied directly to relief and no part will be given to administrative expense, all of which is paid by that organization out of its own funds. The Red Cross in addition has made a contribution of $50,000.

In a letter received by Miss Louise B. Shaffer, executive secretary of the local chapter Saturday, an official of the national organization in charge of the relief work in Lorain points out that: "Rehabilitation is not insurance. For example if a man has lost a $5,000 house, we do not propose to build a $5,000 house for him. However, we do make a thorough study of the resources, assets, liabilities and possibilities of each and every case, and

PAGEANT WINDS UP DAILY VACATION SCHOOL ON SUNDAY

Winding up the work of the Daily Vacation Bible School, which for five weeks has been active in Xenia, sixty members of the class presented a pageant at the First M. E. Church Sunday evening which was witnessed by members of the various churches of the city.

The Rev. J. P. Lytle, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church had charge of the opening of the services and presented a verbal report of the activities of the school, which he said had a total enrollment of 156, and an average attendance of 89 of which 34 were present at every session. The cost of the school was $200. The Rev. Lytle read a list of those who had aided in the work, announcing appreciation of the services rendered by each. The Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church led in prayer. An offering was taken which will go to the school, which is now two years old, having been started last summer through the activity of the Ministerial Association, the Rev. William H. Tilford of the Presbyterian Church taking an active part, with Mrs. Frank Dean as principal.

INJUNCTION ISSUED AGAINST HAGAR CO. IS NOW MODIFIED

A temporary restraining order issued in Common Pleas Court against The Hagar Straw Board and Paper Company at a hearing some time ago has been modified to permit the Hagar Company to discharge its waste element into Massies Creek as long as no poisonous matter is in it.

The plaintiffs, Paul James and others, have given notice through their attorney, Charles Darlington, of appealing the case to the Greene County Court of Appeals, and have filed an appeal bond of $100.

The Hagar Company has been the center of complaints from inhabitants living along Massies Creek, for several years, who have at different times alleged that the water into which the waste matter of the colony is being emptied, is being polluted, resulting in the killing of stock.

The Hagar Company contends that the waste, which is poured into the creek, is entirely free from poisonous elements and that over $50,000 has been spent by the company in order to insure that the waste water from the mill is free from pollution and not poisonous to stock or fish.

At the first hearing the result of the injunction suit against the company by Paul James and others, the Court issued a temporary restraining order against the company.

Wilson W. Galloway, manager of the firm said Monday that company officials were pleased over the modification order and declared that the company had taken all necessary precautions to prevent pollution of the stream.

make an award accordingly, so that the actual needs of each disaster victim are really met. Our chief object has been to get the normal life of the community into operation and to give financial relief where necessary."

The committee in charge of the campaign in Xenia, consists of Dr. B. R. McClellan, chairman; the executive officers of Kiwanis and Rotary, Dr. H. C. Messenger, representing the local legion post, and the Rev. William H. Tilford, representing the Red Cross. These men are making arrangements for the luncheon Thursday at 2 o'clock which will launch a quick campaign immediately after.

The secretaries of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and the adjutant of members of their organizations for the solicitation work Thursday and each member will be notified of the district he is to cover.

Those present at the preliminary meeting Monday were: Dr. B. R. McClellan, Dr. A. M. Patterson, C. L. Darlington, C. W. Murphy, Dr. H. C. Messenger, J. K. Williamson and the Rev. W. H. Tilford.

RAILROAD CARRIES CASE AGAINST TAXI MEN TO HIGH COURT

The Pennsylvania Railroad Monday filed a motion in the State Supreme Court for orders directing the Greene County Court of Appeals to certify its records in the cases of the railroad against Daniel Donovan and Charles Cunningham, taxicab operators.

The action arose out of the attempt of the railroad to prevent Donovan and Cunningham from using property adjacent to the depot here as a taxi stand on the grounds that it had let exclusive use of the stand to Curtis Hale, another taxi operator. The railroad sought to enjoin Donovan and Cunningham from use of the territory and lost its cases in both the Common Pleas Court and the Court of Appeals. It is now seeking to obtain a reversal from the Supreme Court.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS RECOVERING AFTER FATAL CAR CRASH

Rial T. Parrish, Dayton and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Omer Parker, Xenia, have practically recovered from injuries sustained when the automobile owned and driven by Mr. Parrish was struck by another machine near Delaware a week ago.

James Boyer, Columbus, driver of the other machine, was instantly killed. Mrs. Parker was rendered unconscious and recovered in a Delaware Hospital. Mr. Parrish suffered a severe gash on one arm while Mrs. Parrish and their daughter, Miss Margaret, escaped uninjured.

Mr. Parrish was driving to Sandusky where the plant of the Lincoln Tractor Company, with which he is connected, was damaged by the recent tornado, when the accident happened near midnight Monday night. When he saw two cars approaching, Mr. Parrish pulled his machine into a ditch and stopped to avoid an accident. Boyer's machine, however, crashed directly into the Parrish car. Glass shattered over the occupants but the heavy car they were driving is believed to have prevented more serious injury.

Mrs. Parrish before marriage was Miss Margaret Weddle of this city. Her brother, Harry Weddle, went to Delaware and brought his sisters to this city after the accident.

MUST STRIVE FOR GOAL CANDIDATE SAYS AT MEETING

Several hundred people heard the address of Senator J. F. Burke, newspaper publisher of Elyria, O., at Ketter's Grove Sunday afternoon.

He took as his topic "The Christian Man and Politics," and named several things that are to be achieved in the Christian life. "Men are constantly enlarging their view of life and in order to do that we must have reached a higher plane today than we did years ago. Our ambitions as men and women are not what they were when we are children. We must set a goal for our lives and everyone must strive to that goal and to the Christian life," were some of the Senator's outstanding statements.

Senator Burke is candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

MERCHANTS WIN FROM VISITORS SUNDAY 16 TO 3

The Xenia Merchants, formerly the East Side A. C., continued their winning streak Sunday afternoon at Dickerson Park, by annexing their fifth straight victory at the expense of the Springfield Ramblers in a loosely played game by a score of 16 to 3.

The contest was close and interesting until the fourth inning, when the Springfield pitcher was hit in the head by a foul ball from the bat of one of his team mates, forcing him to leave the game. The pitcher who took his place was hit rather freely and the locals soon piled up a commanding lead.

Anderson led the Merchants at bat with a home run in the eighth inning, while Shoecraft followed with a three base hit in the seventh.

Lewis, who was on the mound for the locals, hurled air tight ball with the exception of the second inning, when he was touched for three runs by the visitors.

Next Sunday the Merchants will play the Dayton Bars, the second best colored team in Dayton, who defeated the fast Middletown Brandts Sunday in a close game by a 4 to 3 score. The game will be played at Dickerson Park and should the locals defeat the Bars, the management of the C. M. I. team of Dayton, has promised to give the locals a game.

The Merchants will practice Wednesday evening, according to Manager W. O. Rickman.

An Everyday Feast Of Good Things

Whiskers are already beginning to grow on the joke about the difficulty and embarrassment some people have in selecting the correct fork from the assortment of silverware spread before them at an extremely formal dinner.

Unless they are perfectly familiar with formal functions they find themselves at a loss to know which implement to use—and our most graceful table acquaintances become to them mere implements of torture.

Nobody likes uncertainty—and the Evening Gazette and the Morning Republican A-B-C Classified Section is one place where it does not exist—whether one is familiar with it or not.

FINNS FURNISH THRILLS EVEN WHILE LOSING

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Paris, July 14—The track and field championships of the Olympic games will go down this year as the greatest games held since the revival of the famous classic.

While the United States won the title, the fight put up by the athletes representing Finland dimmed the Americans victory. The athletes from the United States set up new world's marks, they proved their prowess in most of the competition but the men representing the little mite of a country, Finland, fought all the other nations to the ground and bowed only to the Americans.

The honors for individual brilliancy undoubtedly should go to Paavo Nurmi, and Willie Ritola, the Finns who dimmed the luster of all other competitors by their performance. Nurmi was the surprise of the meet. He gave an all around exhibition of speed and endurance seldom witnessed in athletic carnivals.

Eight world records went by the board in the final reckoning at the end of the meet and five of them were hung up by Americans.

The Americans made their records in the 400 metre hurdles, when F. M. Taylor made a new mark of 52.35; in the pentathlon, when R. Lendgren set a new mark of 25 feet, six inches in the broad jump; in the decathlon, when H. M. Osborn made a total of 7,710.775 points and in the 400 and 1600 metre relays when the boys from the United States set new marks of 41 seconds and 3.16 respectively.

The other records were made in the 10,000 metre run by Willie Ritola of Finland, whose mark was 30.23.5; in the 5000 metre run by Ritola in the 3,000 metre steeple chase and by E. H. Liddell, England, who made a mark of 47.35 in winning the 400 metre run.

The United States won the meet with 255 points. Finland was second with 166. The others finished as follows:

Great Britain 85 1-2; Sweden 31 1-2; France 26 1-2; Italy 19; Switzerland 15; South Africa 11; Hungary 10 1-2; Australia 10; Canada 8; Norway 6; Argentina 5; New Zealand, Estonia, Holland 4 each; Denmark 3; Japan and Chile 1 each.

In the final day of the meet the outstanding star was Alben Stenross, 40 year old wood worker of Finland, who won the marathon by a mile. Clarence De Mar, the American came in third.

In the water polo competition today Holland defeated Sweden 7 to 0.

In the modern pentathlon, 3,000 metre swim, the United States showed up poorly. G. Bare was fourteenth, his time being 6 minutes and 16.45 seconds; F. Putts was twenty-fourth, time 6:45; Dan Scott was 32nd, time 7:56 and E. Harrison 36th, time 8:32.

In the final of the 1500 metre swim free style, Howell of Chicago, though qualified was withdrawn by Manager Taylor who is saving him for the 800 metre relay, leaving Adam Smith, of Erie, Pa., Y. M. C. A. the sole entry of the United States in the former event.

In the semi final events of the sword fencing teams, Czechoslovakia defeated Argentina 8 to 8, 45 touches to 47, and Holland defeated France 9 to 7.

BOWERSVILLE LOSES SUNDAY TO MORROW 9

Bowersville made a brave start at Morrow Sunday, but lost out in the ninth 4 to 2. Taking the lead two to nothing for five innings, an error in the sixth gave Morrow its first run. Morrow's only earned run came in the seventh, a home run by second baseman Lewis. This tied the score until the ninth, when a costly error, which would have retired the side, and a double were good for two runs.

Bowersville will try to tame the Tigers of Jeffersonville next Sunday. Bowersville won the last game in ten innings 2 to 1. The score: Bowersville..... 0 100 10000-2 3 3 Morrow..... 000001102-4 5 3 Earned Runs—Bowersville, 1; Morrow, 1. Batteries: Bowersville—Wells and Murrell; Morrow—Dumford and Howard, Mirinda.

Leaped to Her Death. Columbus, July 14.—Mrs. W. J. Alexander, 22, of Delaware, was killed instantly by a fall from the third floor of Grant hospital, where she was convalescing in the maternity ward. Surgeons and Coroner Murphy said she jumped from the window of her room. They could give no motive, however, for her apparent suicide. She left a week old infant.

Fatal Auto Crash. Middletown, O., July 14.—Joseph O'Neil of Newport, Ky., was killed in an automobile accident on Cemetery hill, near Franklin. His wife and daughter, seriously injured, were taken to a Dayton hospital.

RESERVES LOSE SECOND GAME IN ROW TO EATON TEAM SUNDAY

The Xenia Reserve baseball team lost its second straight game Sunday afternoon at Washington Park when the Seltz and Frey nine of Eaton, Ohio beat the locals by a 5 to 2 score in a fairly played game.

McDonnell was on the mound for the losers and while he was hit rather hard had his support been better there might have been a different story to tell of the game. McDonnell fanned nine of the visitors and walked one while he hit two of the Eaton batsmen in succession. The walk nor the hit batsmen did not mean anything as the side was retired and none of them scored.

Swisher was on the rubber for the Eaton outfit. He pitched nice ball and kept the locals to six hits which in only one inning did the Reserves bunch hits and this was in the fourth. Although the locals had men resting on the sacks several different times waiting on a bingle that would score a man the old pinch hit was lacking. Swisher sent eight of the locals back to the bench via the strikeout route while he passed three and hit one. His support was good his mates making but two errors behind him one of these aiding in a run.

Neither team scored in the opening round but the Eaton nine threatened in the second after one man was down and McKee singled. Barnes forced McKee at second and Ware was retired on a roller to McDonnell. The Reserves started out well in the second but could not do anything with Swisher slanting. D. Fuller hit safely but was forced at second by his brother Paul. Cyphers and Fuller fanned.

The Seltz and Frey combination finally scored in the third frame. Meyers hit to center but Fuller messed up his grounder allowing it to get through him and Meyers stopped at third. Swisher singled scoring Meyers. Potts fanned. Rhodes rolled to McDonnell but Cox did not handle the ball well and both runners were safe. Moon laced out a single scoring Swisher. Rhodes going to second and on to third on McDonnell's wild pitch. Root fanned for the second out. McKee doubled to left scoring Rhodes and Moon. Barnes beat Cox's throw to first but Ware popped to Fuller for the final out.

The locals went scoreless in their half of the third but got their only run in the fourth. Cyphers, Fuller, two runs of the fracas in the fourth. Milburn grounded to the box and was retired at first. Randall doubled. D. Fuller hit sharply to third, Rhodes making a nice pickup but threw wild to second trying to catch Randall off the bag. Randall going to third on the wild heave. D. Fuller swiped the middle cushion. P. Fuller rolled to Moon in short left field. Cyphers doubled scoring Randall and O. Fuller. Fuller fanned for the third out ending the rally.

The visitors added their last tally in the eighth after Ware had rolled to Cox. Meyers singled through short and went to second on Swisher's sacrifice. Potts singled to deep right scoring Meyers. Potts going to second when Milburn pegged badly to Schwab. Rhodes grounded to Schwab for the last out.

The locals had a chance to score a run in the fifth after McDonnell singled and stole second. Cox walked and both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Schwab and Randall flied out while Milburn grounded to Swisher. The Reserves also passed up another opportunity to score in the sixth and again in the ninth. In the ninth Cyphers was safe and went to second on Pott's wild peg to first. Moon sacrificed Cyphers to third. Woods pinch hitting for McDonnell fanned but Cox walked and stole second. With two on a hit would have brought the locals to within one run of the visitors but Schwab grounded weakly to Swisher for the last out ending the game.

McKee and Meyers led the winners with the stick. McKee getting a double and two singles out of four trips to the plate while Meyers got three safeties out of four times at bat. Rhodes played well at third and made several nice stops.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play a fast team from Richmond, Indiana at Washington Park.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

BERNACK MACFADDEN

Milk and milk products, always recognized as superior foods, have been raised to the highest place in the bill of fare by the recent discoveries of science, and in making these discoveries, science has merely explained the observations of common sense. Milk should be a food par excellence, because it is made in Nature's laboratory for the purpose of providing the complete nutrition of a growing animal.

The calf thrives on it and grows amazingly, without anything being added to it or taken from it. Man is not a calf, but he is more like a calf than he is like a potato sprout or a lion. The potato sprout lives on the potato, and the lion lives on meat. Man can eat either potatoes or meat, but he will not be so completely nourished as he will on milk.

Still man is not a calf, and here is the difference. The calf's chief business is to grow. He grows even faster than a human youngster, and still more rapidly in comparison with the growth that is, the replacement of worn out cells—of the adult human. So cow's milk made for calves, has a surplus of growing material. Most foods eaten by civilized man are deficient in this material.

Plant foods lack growth protein and meat lacks growth minerals. Both of them may be short of certain vitamins. Milk has a superabundance of all of these things, so essential to growth and to all the physiological processes. Hence milk is a protective or supplementary food. Added to the diet it rounds out its deficiencies and makes it more safe and efficient.

That is no reason why we should live exclusively on milk. Such a diet is useful as a restorative in certain run-down conditions and for limited periods. For normal, healthy adults, however, a little milk is a good thing, but too much milk is too much of a good thing. A pint a day for adults and a quart a day for children should be the minimum.

Butter fat, whether you eat it in whole milk, or in cream or in butter, is Nature's most valuable fat.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE

Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

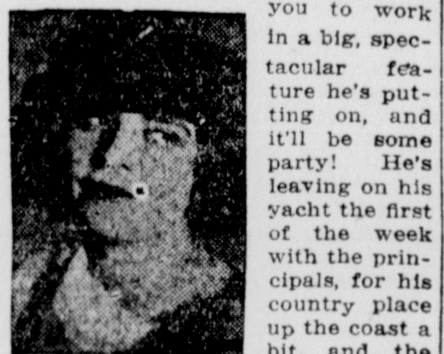

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit PERSIS GRANT and try to break into the movies. She meets LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, and after a quarrel with Persis, goes to a girl's club with SYLVIA STEARNS and lives there. Through French she meets JOHN SEWARD, a famous star, and is engaged as his leading lady in an independent production that he is making. Seward, known as "the great lover of the screen," falls in love with her. Realizing that she cared more for Lawrence French than for him, she is much upset. Returning from a location trip early one morning, she sees Sylvia and Lawrence driving to the railway station together, and feels sure that they are eloping. But a note from Sylvia explains that she has an engagement with a stock company and is leaving to fill it. An agent phones her, asking her to see him concerning work. There she meets EIKHORN, who offers her an engagement, and wants her to dine with him. Having an engagement with French, she refuses.

XXIX—"THE RIGHT THING."

JACK GIBBS laughed softly as the door closed behind Elkhorn. "You're an awful hit with the grand mogul," he told me admiringly. "He wants you to work in a big, spectacular feature he's putting on, and it'll be some party! He's leaving on his yacht the first of the week with the principals, for his country place up the coast a bit, and the first part of the picture will be shot up there. But he'll tell you about it himself tonight."

VIOLET DARE

"I can't go, though; he didn't give me the opportunity to tell him so, but I have an—important engagement for tonight," I told him.

He just stared at me in amazement. "Do you mean to tell me that you're fool enough not to be willing to break any engagement on earth to dine with Elkhorn?" he demanded. "Why, this is the chance of your life, and one you'll never get again if you turn him down now. He's crazy about your looks, and he'll do everything for you. Don't be a fool now, of all times! Break this other date of yours—that's a good girl—you can always make another."

"But I wanted—that is— I couldn't tell him about Larry, of course. Yet it seemed to me that

"You little idiot!" he exclaimed.

If I didn't dine with Larry that night I'd be letting my life's happiness slip through my fingers.

"If Mr. Elkhorn really thinks I'd be good for the part, he won't let me not having dinner with him tonight make any difference," I told Gibbs at last, gathering up my bag and gloves and rising. "I can see him tomorrow, at any time—but tonight it's quite impossible."

"Oh you fool—you little idiot!" he cried, and I think he'd have liked to shake me. His face got redder and redder as he stared at me. "Why, can't you understand—can't you see what this means to you? If you get in wrong with Elkhorn—oh, you're crazy. Now come on, be sensible. Do the right thing, and you won't be sorry. You will—"

"The right thing is exactly what I'm doing, Mr. Gibbs," I told him, going toward the door. "I'll see Mr. Elkhorn tomorrow whenever he finds it convenient."

Tomorrow—My Wits Win.

You would listen

IF A MAN buttonholed your coat and told you to listen, you would listen—though he talked only of trivial things.

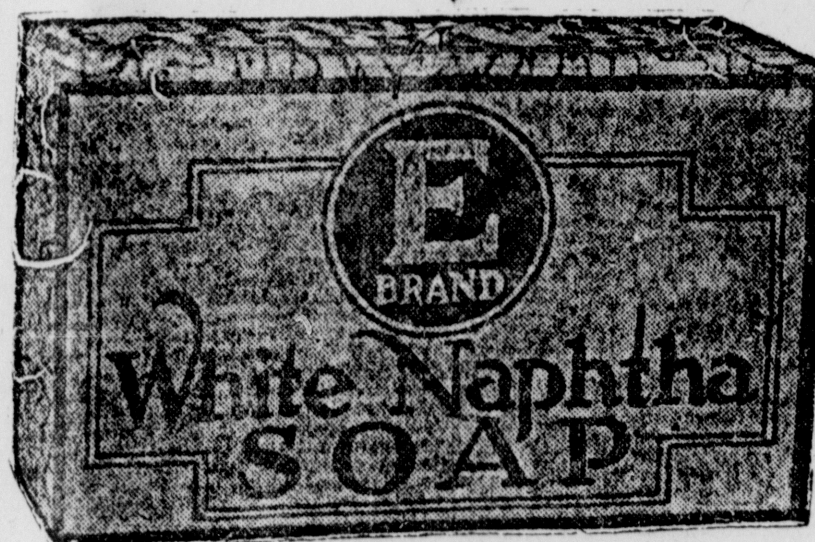

Advertisements use more courteous means to engage you. They know you are busy and await their turn—though what they have to say is important.

The full-page advertisement, the tiniest advertisement—each has its definite message. News of varieties, prices, economies; of wares you can select wisely and purchase with utmost confidence. News packed into as few words as possible so as not to rob you of time.

They offer only the best. Inferior goods couldn't stand up under such public inspection. They urge you to buy the best—to realize the savings made, the steps saved, the satisfaction gained through reading advertisements and buying advertised goods.

Give them audience—the large and the small. What they say profits you. That's why they say it.
